COMMUNITY NEWSLETTER

Vol. XVI, No. 2

March 2007

Greetings,

As this newsletter goes out, two Emmaus walks will have been completed. The fourth day begins for two groups of pilgrims and another fourth day for us.

I am always amazed at the power of God to change lives. As the pilgrims explained what the three-day walk with Jesus meant to them, I was, once again, amazed at how each pilgrim was touched in some way or another. Each Emmaus experience is uniquely different because our spiritual needs are different. As I listened to the varied accounts of the weekend, it was clear that the Spirit of God had moved in a profound and powerful way. I am always amazed, but not surprised, that God knows our deepest needs even if we don't. Although each account of the weekend was different, the unifying bond for all was the overwhelming, consuming love from God.

I should not be amazed, however. I know intellectually about the power of God. My rational brain understands - but only to a limited extent. It is often said that words alone cannot describe the experience of God's grace. Words fail us as we try to share our experience with the love of God. As we are filled with the love of God, how do we share this love? Only by our actions can others see that we have been transformed. We share this experience by showing others how we have been touched by the power of God.

As we are transformed and become transparent, the love of God shines through us. It is reflected in all that we do. It is our actions more than words that carry the love of God to the world. It is our individual actions that will strengthen our congregations and Christianize the world.

As we begin this Fourth Day, let's ask, "How are we doing?"

"For God so loved the world...."

DeColores,
Harry Dieckmann
